Brief Items.

C. W. Z .- Your communication is too personal for publication.

Some persons entered the granary of Mr. Philip McNemar, in Centre township on Tuesday night, and carried off about twenty bushels of corn.

The rain fall of Thursday and Thursday night was very great. Considerable damage to fences was done and various small bridges were carried off.

A two year old child of Mr. Young, at Duncannon was so badly scalded about two weeks since that it effects on Thursday last.

On Sunday night aweek the old ware-housein McVeytown was set on fire and consumed with the stable attached. Loss about $2,000.

We call the attention of shippers of Produce to the card of J. M. Girvin & Son, Baltimore. From all we can learn it is a reliable house.

On Thursday night last, a house belonging to Harry Long situate in Green-wood twp., took fire from the flue and before the flames were extinguished, burned the roof nearly off.

The late style of collars is very high. A few nights since one of the young men in this place, woke up, and saw a ghost in his room. Seizing his six-shooter, he approached it, and found it was his collar, which happened to be standing on the floor.

The profit seems to be all on one side when a farmer brings you a pound of butter and a bushel of potatoes and collects eighty cents, and then brings in seven of his family to dinner. Such an incident happened in this borough on the day of the re-union.

On Monday night last, a horse be-longing to Rev. Logan, of Millerstown, and a buggy belonging to John Ernest, of the same place were stolen. The horse and wagon were leard to pass through Greenwood twp., on the road leading to Liverpool, shortly before day-light on Tuesday morning.

The German Baptists recently had a love-feast in their new church near Blain; after the love-feast, they continued preaching near two weeks, which resulted in the conversion and immersion of four in the Sherman's creek. Not a few of the wealthiest farmers and others belong to this unassuming class of people.

Robbery .- On Monday night of last week, some person made a forcible entry into the store of D. R. Kleffman, of Millerstown. About thirty dollars worth of goods were stolen. Marks of a wagon were seen next morning, showing that the goods had been removed in that manner.

More Careless Gunning .- On Saturday afternoon a young man named " Scatcher" Campbell, went out from Newport for rabbits, being accompanied by Harry Wingert and Elmer Ziegler. The dogs ran a rabbit into a pile of rails, the Wingert and Ziegler boys went to one end of the pile, while Campbell with the gun was at the other. Ziegler held his hand over a hole, while the other boy was looking in, when Campbell fired, eight shots entering Ziegler's hand, and other shots taking effect in Wingert's face, one going into his eye, destroying that valuable organ. It is time some action was taken to prevent these gunning accidents, by severely punishing those who by their carelessness cause them.

Another Sudden Death.-On Wednesday last Mr. Solomon Roth, of Eschol was found dead on the road between the tannery and his residence. Mr. Roth had been working at the tannery and not feeling well said he would quit for a while and come back after dinner. In about half an hour some boys brought word that a man was lying in the road and they thought he was dead. Some men went to see and found that it was Mr. Roth and that he had probably been dead for some minutes. He had complained of a pain in his breast but had generally enjoyed good health.

Karse Drowned .- A few days ago, while on the homeward trip with a boat load of coal, at the Nanticoke dam, about six miles this side of Wilkesbarre, a valuable horse belonging to Jones Brothers & Company, of this place, fell down over a stone wall into the canal and was drowned, dragging a mule that was hitched in the same team into the water also, the mule, however, fell on top of the horse, keeping the latter under the water until death ensued, and then his muleship was towed thirty yards or more up the canal to where the wall was lower, where he climbed to the tow path,-Newport News,

Information Wanted. - About twenty years ago, there lived in Juniata county, Pa., somewhere along the Black Log mountain, a family by the name of Mc-Gurvey. In addition to the father and mother, there were twin daughters, three years old, who were separated at that time, and they have never been able to hear of each other since, owing, no doubt, to their extreme youth when parted. The one sister is now a resident of Newport, and is anxious to learn, if possible, the whereabouts of her long lost sister, who, it has been ascertained was taken by one Mr. John Thompson, who removed, about the same time, from Juniata county to some one of the western states, most likely Iowa. The then little girl who accompanied Mr. Thompson was named either Juniata or Susquehanna McGurvey. Any person kindly furnishing information that will assist in bringing the long lost sisters together will be gratefully remembered by those immediately interested. Exchanges will confer a favor by making a note of the above circumstances. Address Solomon Zeigler, Newport, Perry coun-

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

Samuel Imes, a colored citizen of Walker township, has been observing the work of the "fly" in the growing wheat. He says that by going to a wheat field on a clear evening about the time of sunset and putting one's face to the ground, and directing the eyes toward the setting sun the "fly" may be seen at work. It is exceedingly small, and requires good eyes, but a close look will see them in great numbers, depositing their larvæ in the groove of the leaf of the wheat stalk, at a place where the larvæ adheres till a dew or rain washes it down to the heart of the stalk, where it germinates, or takes life, and of course after that the vitality of the wheat is seriously impaired if not entirely destroyed. On Saturday last Buyers & Kennedy's coal team started from the ware-house and ran up to Pennebaker & Slautter-back's blacksmith shop, where they run against and upset another wagon besides upsetting the one to which they were at-tached. One of the horses was quite severly hurt.

One night last week, Joseph Seiber, residing near McAllisterville, had a valuable horse kicked on the hind leg while in the stable, breaking the leg in two places. The animal was a valuable one and had to be shot.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

A number of students have been suspended from Dickinson college, owing to depredations committed on Halloween

Mr. N. J. Glass, of Hunter's Run, informs us that he shot a strange-looking animal a few days since. The animal had made frequent visits to his chicken coop, and is pronounced by knowing ones to be a species of catamount. It measured exactly three feet in length, 15 inches in height, and weighed 10 pounds.—Volunteer.

On election evening a fight occurred On election evening a fight occurred near the square, between Geo. Hoffman, saddler, and a young man by the name of Meck. During or after the first trouble, a quarrel arose between Hoffman and John Faber, a young man, when Hoffman was knocked down, his head striking on the curb-stone. He was taken up unconscious and carried to the office of Dr. Krise, who examined and dressed his injuries, Hoffman all the while re-maining insensible. He was removed in this condition to his home. Wednes-day Meck and Floyd, both young men, were arrested, but Faber has fled. Al-though his life was despaired of hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

On Tuesday last a colored child by the On Tuesday last a colored child by the name of Thompson, whose parents reside on North street. In this borough, was so badly burned that death ensued a short time after. The burned child with one or two other children was left in the house while the mother was out washing. The little one getting too near the stove its clothing took fire when it ran into the street. A neighbor woman ran to its assistance and stripped off the burning clothes. At first it was off the burning clothes. At first it was supposed that no serious injury had been done, but the deceased must have inbaled some of the smoke and flames.
